Dear Graduate:

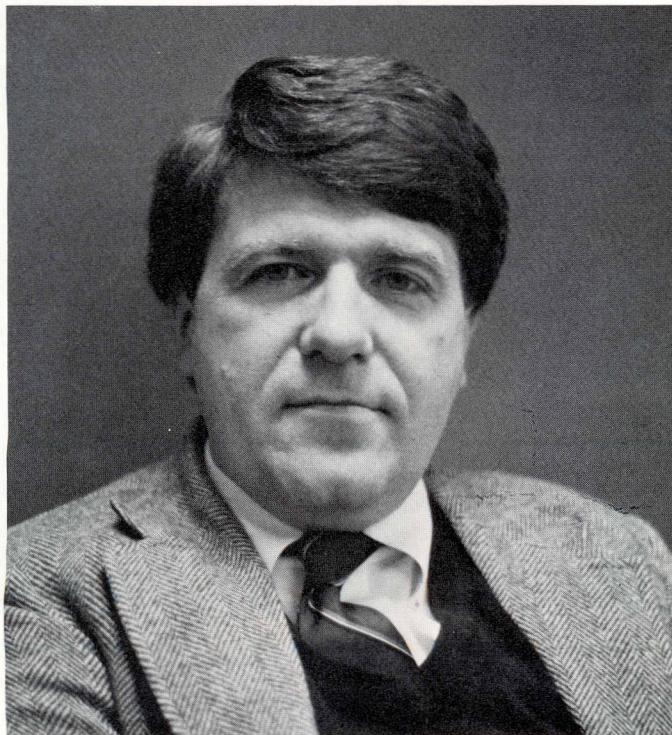

I have some idea of how hard you have worked these last three or four years. I know that you have invested substantial amounts of time, energy and money in your pursuit of a legal education. I know that you have also found friends, shared joys and now revel in the sense of accomplishment at completing law school. You deserve to take pleasure in what you have done. You have earned it.

It is in a larger sense, of course, not the completion but the beginning of your career as an attorney. You join a profession which has contributed significantly to the general welfare. You join a profession which still carries the proud heritage of the evolution of a system of laws which is at the core of our democracy. You join a profession which has embraced the moral principle of service as a central part of its philosophy. It is an honorable profession and one which I have served and loved since I began the study of law some thirty years ago.

It remains possible to live greatly in the law. It is my fervent hope that you will do so. I believe this law school has prepared you well to serve our profession and our society. As you pursue your careers, I hope you will remain active in our alumni, refer future students to us, remember our graduates when you hear of employment opportunities, and respond as generously as you can to our alumni fund raising efforts. Most importantly, I hope that by the quality of your professional conduct you will advance our growing reputation as a school which stands for quality, integrity and humanity. I hope you know that as you leave this law school community you carry with you our affection and our heartfelt wishes for your success.

Louis & Clark

DRUG STORES

2689 Boston Rd
Wilbraham, Ma 01095

In 1963 two young men graduated from The Hampden College of Pharmacy. In September 1965, Louis Demosthenous and Clark Matthews, joined in an equal partnership to buy a traditional drug-store, complete with a soda fountain, in Chicopee called Air Line Drug.

As the new owners often introduced themselves as, "I am Louis and this is Clark". Many customers would say, "Oh like Louis & Clark the explorers!". Realizing that the team name was very familiar to their customers, they changed the name of their store to "Louis & Clark". Within 18 months, the business had to be moved into a new store twice the size. From that time on growth came quickly. By 1972, they had 5 stores in the Springfield area. They decided to add a homecare medical equipment and surgical supply business. They were one of the first drug stores to offer Senior Citizen Discount 10% on prescription and non prescription medicine.

Thanks to their customer support, Louis & Clark are looking forward to additional growth in the coming years.

For over twenty years, Louis & Clark Drug has been dedicated to helping you take care of yourself.
