Honorary Degree Recipients

James Russell Martin, B.S.

Chairman and Chief Executive Officer,
Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company

DOCTOR OF LAWS

Distinguished business leader and frequent contributor to the positions shaping the industry of which he is a member, Mr. Martin was named Chairman of the tenth largest insurance company in the country four years ago. His career at Massachusetts Mutual began in 1951 when he joined the company as Assistant Superintendent of Agencies. Following several advancements, he was named Vice President and head of the agency division, and in 1968 was elevated to President and Chief Executive Officer.

A native of Illinois and graduate of the University of Illinois, he is a retired lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Air Force. He also holds the Chartered Life Underwriter designation.

Recognized as a pioneer in the revitalization of downtown Springfield, he has guided his company's contributions to the renewal of Western Massachusetts through projects such as Baystate West. As a director of several organizations and businesses including the First National Bank of Boston, American Management Association, and the Health Insurance Association of America, he is actively involved in many areas of business and commerce at the national level.

His strong commitment to the role of business in the community is manifest in his wide range of responsibilities and his encouragement of others to accept community leadership.

Graham King, B.A.

Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, Valley Bank and Trust Company
DOCTOR OF HUMANE LETTERS

A leading figure in the Springfield corporate community for many years, Mr. King has been a senior executive of the Valley Bank and Trust Company since 1961 when he was appointed Vice President in charge of marketing. Advanced to President and Chief Executive Officer five years ago, he was elected to his present position as chairman in January 1978.

Educated at Kent School and Harvard University (B.A.), the Syracuse (N.Y.) native served as a captain in the U.S. Navy during World War II.

For nearly two decades he has given his distinctive fund-raising and administrative talents to a number of local organizations and institutions, including the Greater Springfield Chamber of Commerce, Pioneer Valley United Way, and Springfield Area Development Corporation as well as several area colleges, schools, and hospitals. He currently chairs the banks and insurance division of Western New England College's Law Center campaign. In 1977, the Jewish War Veterans honored him as the Outstanding Citizen of the Year.

A strong believer in leadership through example, Mr. King has been an instrumental force in promoting the economic, educational, and cultural vitality of Springfield.
